

Journal of OVOP Policy

Vol.1 October 2008

-English Version-

Table of Contents

[Forewords] (in Japanese)	Hiramatsu Morihiko
[Review]
The Problem of the Regional Revitalization in Asia and One Village One Product - Adaptability of Oita Model to Asian Countries- (in Japanese)	Igusa Kunio	p.1
[Research Note]
The OVOP movement as a development policy in developing countries -In comparison with the private sector development assistance by Western Donors-(in Japanese)	Kurokawa Kiyoto	p.2
[Research Note]
Local Revitalization and Urban-Rural Relations in South Korea (in Japanese)	Son Kyungmi	p.3
[Article]
OVOP and Community Capacity Development -A Case of JICA Group Training Programs- (in Japanese)	Miyoshi, Koichi Stenning, Naomi	p.4
[Article]
Knowledge and Networking Strategies for Community Capacity Development in Oyama-machi: An Archetype of the OVOP Movement	Stenning, Naomi Miyoshi, Koichi	p.5-20
[Research Note]
Sustainable Development of Rural Revitalization: The Pioneer of OVOP Movement	Dyah Savitri	p.21-30

[Research Note]

Sustainable Local Development Through One Town One Product (OTOP):
The Case of OTOP Movement in Mindanao, Philippines

Rana, Erec Cutaran p.31-38

[Research Note]

Making One Village One Product Movement Success in Cambodia Thought Lessons Learnt from Japan's Experience: The Analysis of Its Political Economy and Challenges and Prospects in the Road Ahead in Cambodia

Lay Samkol p.39-49

[Research Note]

A Case Study of OVOP: Comparative Study between Japan (Oita) and Cambodia Organization
Chart & the Three Elements of Sustainable development

Sok Sopheaktra p.50-66

[Research Note]

Participatory Development in One Village One Product Movement:
A Case Study: Green Tourism in Ajimu Town, Oita, Japan and Agro Tourism in Pasuruan, East
Java, Indonesia

Wiwit Kuswidiati p.67-75

Editorial Board